Suicides of EMS Providers

Andrea Sjaardema Zickmund, Flight Paramedic, Angel MedFlight Worldwide Air Ambulance

Suicide is an ever increasing problem in the EMS world. Andrea experienced losing 2 EMT partners in 1 yr due to suicide and has a deep passion for increasing the awareness of this problem to not only EMS providers, but the families and friends of the EMS Provider. This lecture will discuss the career choice to be an EMS provider, talking about the stereotypes of EMS providers and how to change it and the importance of watching for the signs and symptoms of the EMS provider who is having difficulty dealing with the stress and getting them help before it's too late.

2019 Bomb Cyclone and Flood in Nebraska

Doug Fox- Director of Region 24 Emergency Management Director

Early in the morning on March 14, 2019, the 90 year old Spencer dam failed after a major storm caused heavy rain, snowmelt and ice breakage to swell the Niobrara River. Once the dam failed, an 11 foot wave of water, ice chunks and debris rolled through taking businesses along with it over 5 counties. Doug shares struggles with this event, the cleanup following and endless hours, days and months into the recovery process.

COOP Planning- Corraling Calamity when the West gets Wild!

LaRae Dobbs, Emergency Management Coordinator Big Horn County

Disasters do happen in rural communities. A small plan can make a BIG difference! Getting started with the 5 "W"'s: WHO- does what? WHEN- do we do it? WHERE- do we go? WHAT- is in the bag? WHY- is it essential?

Fidelity Testing for More Effective Emergency Response

Chris Dorn, Safe Haven International

Chris Dorn, Senior Analyst with Safe Havens International, will share ways to test safety plans and measure the effectiveness of safety related training. For example, interviewing staff members using a variety of scenarios can reveal how closely their responses match expectations and "ideal responses" to a given emergency. Analyzing the results of these interviews can reveal gaps in planning and training. Chris explains how your schools and businesses can use this process to increase the effectiveness of emergency response among staff at all levels.
